It Was Good.

Ever since last December when we received much appreciation and other things for singing a seven-word solo in the baseball show the worm of jealousy has been gnawing at the vitals of one N. H. Arnold, sportswriter for the Brattleboro Reformer. In his column and personally Arnold has implied that as a southerner we are "clumsy." Tonight, tomorrow night and Saturday afternoon Mr. Arnold will attempt to sing a number in "Honeycomb Lane," the annual show given for the benefit of the First Regiment band in Brattleboro. To illustrate to what extremes a man will go when driven by the green-eyed monster, our fellow scribe will maltreat a number entitled "Popularity." Great guns! "Popularity," and by a reporter and sportswriter! Band shows in Brattleboro have always been excellent performances and doubtless even with such a handicap this week's show will be no exception.—Bellows Falls Times.

Sporting Notes.

Middlebury was defeated by Hamilton at Clinton, N. Y., yesterday, 2 to 1.
Eitcher Williams of Dartmouth went once ten effort to the wall. He beat Yale and Princeton, but lost to Harvard.

It will be some day tomorrow in the Harvard stadium with all the college track stars present in competition. Brattleboro interest will be divided between the general interest in collegiate sport and the personal interest in the performance of one Brattleboro boy at Hamilton.

Pletcher Low, former Dartmouth shortstop, will not stop long in the Eastern league if he continues to knock out home runs with two and three men on. He delivered another yesterday with three men on base and added a double for good measure. He is playing third regularly instead of short.

Well, we're improving, says the Bellows Falls Times about the showing of the B. F. track team. Last year the high school scored only one point and this year it scored 11-6 points at the track meet. At that rate it will take only 311 years for a local team to equal the number of points scored by the Keene team last Saturday.

The Brattleboro league has adopted the Draper and Maynard leather ball for use in all league games. This concern awards prizes to the members of the team winning the pennant in any league that adopts the D. & M. ball. The team has the choice of a handsome cup, or of individual watch fobs or individual watch chains of gold. At the close of the season the picture of the winning team with the prizes awarded by the Draper & Maynard company will be on exhibition in the window of H. M. Wood's sporting goods store through which firm the balls are bought.

BAND COMEDY
WELL STAGED

Large Audience Generous in Manifestations of Its Approval

PLEASING MUSICAL AND DANCE NUMBERS

Initial Performance of Honeycomb Lane—Personnel of Cast and Chorus—Offering Will Be Repeated Tonight and Tomorrow Afternoon.

The initial performance of Honeycomb Lane, this season's stage offering of the First Regiment band, took place in the Auditorium last evening before a large audience who were generous in expressing their appreciation of the efforts of those who composed cast and chorus. As is usual in band productions, Honeycomb Lane was well staged both as to scenery and costume, and the work of the orchestra was one of the pleasing features. The cast included J. Harry Estey, Frederic C. Adams, Hugh Harwood, Morgan Sherman, N. H. Arnold, Hal March, Earle Moffatt, Claude Amidon, Abbott Richmond, Mrs. Nathalie D. Sanford, Miss Harriet Arnold and Miss Hildegarde Babbi, all of this town, and Mrs. George H. Wilder of Burlington.

What plot there was had to do with the matrimonial complications of Mr. and Mrs. John Titus (impersonated by Mr. Estey and Mrs. Sanford), each of whom had kept the other in ignorance of previous ventures in this direction. There were several pleasing musical numbers including two songs, Make a Lot of Noise and Two Hazel Eyes, by Mr. Adams; a duet, Twilight Time, by Mr. Adams and Mrs. Wilder; Garden of Roses, by Mrs. Sanford; Some Little Rag Will Get You, by Mr. Estey, Roses in Springtime and Honeycomb Lane by Mrs. Wilder. The other specialties included Kid-days, a song and dance by Mr. Richmond and a portion of the chorus; Cake-walk Nouveau and Telephone, by Mr. Sherman and Miss Babbi; The Chaplin Walk, by Miss Arnold and a group of young women garbed in the rip of the $670,000 movie star; Popularity by Mr. Arnold and chorus; a dance number called The Flower Girl by Mr. Sherman and Mrs. Philbrook, and a solo dance by Mrs. Philbrook. Of these the most popular seemed to be Mr. Estey's song and the Chaplin stunts, which served to introduce the diminutive Marjorie Martin and Edith Wilkins in addition to the other Chaplins.

The performance was staged by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Philbrook. It will be repeated this evening and tomorrow afternoon.

In the chorus were Edwin Thompson, Lamile Langworthy, Marjorie Watman, Elizabeth Spencer, Irma Ratte, Katherine Denning, Gladys Russell, Stella Gustafson, Dorothy Graffam, Charlotte Hildreth, Norene Richmond, Hazel Switzer, Ethel Sexton, Justine Rose, Inez Stowell, Hazel Wentworth, Anna Johnson, Lena Zarr, Anna Kirko, Christine Nichols, Minnie Leitsinger, Patience Walker, Rose Pellerin, Mattie Croft, Christina Croft, Julia Filion, Anna Curtis, Florence Weatherhead, Naomi Rose, Eva Zarr, Agnes St. Cyr, Hazel Metcalf, Grace Pratt, Lincoln Adams, Emerson Dunklee, Fred Barker, Allan Colt, Raymond Bishop, Harry Montgomery, Roger Sherman, Wallace Goldsmith, Horton D. Walker contributed some electrical effects, and some of the special scenery was painted by W. R. Stuart. The band committee in charge consisted of Fred C. Leitsinger, Arthur D. Wyatt, C. M. Dugan, George H. Clapp and Carl Henkel.
